Kathleen Donald

Funeral services for Kathleen Roberta Donald, 13, who died at the City of Hope in Duarte, of leukemia after an illness of only six days, were held yesterday in Halverson-Leavell Mortuary Chapel.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bolotin, 1028 Crenshaw Blvd. Burial was in Forest Lawn.

Other survivors include three brothers, James, Bobbie, and William; sister, Joan; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Donald and Benjamin Butler, and three uncles, the Rev. Father Robert Butler, Leonard Butler, and John Butler.

Anna Wiethoff

Jack N. Dabbs, 1640 Juniper Wiethoff, 84, mother of Mrs. Jack N. Dabbs, 1640 Juniper Ave., will be celebrated at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills at 9 a.m. tomorrow. Rosary will be recited this evening at the church.

Mrs. Wiethoff, a resident of Hollywood for more than 30 years, died at her home Wednesday night. She was a native of Detroit, Mich. In addition to the daughter here, Mrs. Wiethoff is survived by two sons and five daughters, thirteen grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Los Angeles.

Reports of Knifing Here Found False

Answering a frantic call to a north Torrance home where a knifing was reported yesterday, police arrested a man on suspicion of drunkenness.

Four cars sped to 18920 Felbar Ave., after receiving a call from Gardena police. Police there said they received a call from someone who said there had been a stabbing at that address. The caller then dropped the phone, they said.

When they arrived, they found only Howard Kenneth Colclasure, who was apparently in good health, but they booked him on suspicion of being drunk.

Burglars Lift Cash Box at Local Station

An undetermined amount was taken from a cash box stolen from the Hancock Service Station, 2319 Arlington Ave., early Saturday.

The cash box taken from the station was found down the street about a block in the parkway in front of 2418 Arlington Ave., with the contents strewn about, but the money missing. The burglars apparently pried open a window in the station with a heavy crowbar and grabbed the cash box which was near the window. Andrew Rosso, station owner, was checking to see how much money was missing.

Officer Stresses Safety At Meeting of Bluebirds

In keeping with their purpose of teaching youngsters to be good citizens, leaders of local Bluebird units assembled with their groups at the home of Mrs. Raymond Gagne this week to hear a talk about safety by Officer Don Hartel of the Torrance Police Department.

In his lively discussion of safety, Officer Hartel pointed out the necessity of bicyclists obeying traffic regulations and their responsibility to pedestrians and automobile drivers. Along with a question and answer period, other phases of safety were discussed and each girl received a bicycle safety manual furnished by the Torrance Police Department.

Present at the meeting was District Leader Cynthia Keys.

El Camino

80 years of age. Our function is to accept them where they are, scholastically speaking, and develop and inspire improvement.

"Countless others have graduated from high school, perhaps in the college district, perhaps elsewhere, but have interrupted their last instruction in English and other courses. It seems quite natural that these people find it necessary and advisable to take basic courses in their introduction to college work.

Fatigue Blamed
"Still others fail, largely because of fatigue and tension inherent in any three-hour examination," President Murdock reflected.

Neighboring high schools and El Camino have worked hand-in-hand to articulate their programs. For the past two years, representatives from district high schools have met with college administrators and teachers. "The high school people are anxious to know what to do and how to qualify students to prepare for college work," Dr. William H. Harless, college director of instruction, noted. "These articulation meetings have proved fruitful."

Dr. Harless also outlined a program of acceleration which stimulation of outstanding students in the high schools. The program calls for individual high schools to offer college-level instruction in such subjects as English, history, foreign languages, mathematics, and science to top pupils.

If, on completion of the proposed course, the student is able to pass a test devised and scored by the college, he will be given college credit for his work. Scoring will be based upon national norms, Dr. Harless indicated.

New Plan Tested
At least one neighboring school, the director said, is experimenting in the enrichment of the program of its outstanding students by sending these youngsters to the college campus one day per week, enabling

Bloodmobile Slated Here Next Feb. 13

The first bloodmobile for 1958 will be stationed at the Civic Auditorium on Feb. 13, according to Mrs. Gordon S. Jones, blood recruitment chairman for the Torrance-Lomita Branch of American National Red Cross.

The unit will accept donors from 3 to 7:30 p.m., she stated, and a goal of 250 pints is hoped to be reached. All participating groups will be contacted and new groups may contact Mrs. Jones.

Donors must weigh over 110 pounds and the age limitation is 18 to 60 years. Donors who have received polio shots may donate 24 hours after receiving shot. There is still a limit of 12 weeks interval between donations.

Sgt. 1/e Sylvester Macrorie, son of Mrs. Pearl M. Riggles, of Torrance, took top honors last week as 75 students were graduated from the Army Intelligence School at Fort Lewis, Wash.

them to sit in on college classes and to gain an early orientation to a college program. Such programs are not limited to the El Camino campus, being offered by many colleges and universities throughout the nation, Dr. Harless concluded.

El Camino administrators acknowledged the difficulties which high schools encounter in their educational programs. "In the face of many severe problems, the local high schools are doing a good job in preparing students for the future as attested to by national tests," President Murdock said. "The college," he concluded, "will continue to work in close harmony with those schools. El Camino has grown as they have grown. We would be shortsighted indeed if we failed to offer them less than our cooperation."
